

PURSTON INFANT SCHOOL

Physical Intervention Policy

Aims

- To create a learning environment in which children and adults feel safe
- To protect every person in the school from harm
- To protect all pupils against any form of physical intervention that is unnecessary, inappropriate, excessive or harmful
- To put in place guidance for staff so that they are clear about the circumstances in which they might use reasonable force to restrain pupils and how such reasonable force might be applied (reasonable force- the minimum force necessary to prevent a pupil from physically harming him/herself or others or seriously damaging property)

When intervention and restraint might be used

Team Teach is a programme used widely across Wakefield, which offers a framework for working with challenging behaviour with the aim of reducing “anxiety, risk and restraint”. Team Teach focuses on reducing incidents of challenging behaviour using positive behaviour management strategies. The training also covers basic positive handling.

Intervention and restraint should be used in emergency situations and only as a last resort. It should be limited to situations where:

- A pupil attacks a member of staff or another pupil
- Pupils are fighting
- A pupil is causing, or at risk of causing, injury, damage or accident
- A pupil leaves or tries to leave the school building
- A pupil is at risk of harm to themselves or to their health, safety and well being

Intervention and restraint should never be used as a punishment. Other children should not be used to help restrain others.

Acceptable and appropriate ways of using restraint

Staff will only use restraint if it is:

- Necessary
- Proportionate
- Reasonable
- Responses are made that take into consideration the individual needs and circumstances of that child.

Authorised Action ‘Team Teach’

- Taking the child by the hand or placing palm in the centre of the back to usher away
- Use of the caring C
- Single elbow escort hold
- Finding of the gate and fix and stabilise
- Steer away
- Escorting to chair

Care should be taken with pupils already in an emotional state to avoid escalating a problem. Staff should not attempt to carry a pupil without consulting other members of the team and without clear regard to the physical risks to the child and themselves.

Who can use restraint and intervention?

The use of reasonable force advice (July 2013) allows all teachers at a school to use reasonable force to control or restrain pupils and other people to do so in the same way as teachers, provided they have been authorised by the Head teacher to have control or charge of pupils.

Staff can use physical restraint whenever they are on school premises and in charge of pupils and on other occasions when they have lawful control of pupils on behalf of the school, such as on school trips or other out of school activities.

Recording after an incident

Following an incident

- Members of staff who have been involved should be given the opportunity to recover from the incident and given team support to discuss the events.
- At the earliest opportunity a record of the incident must be made using the red Bound and Numbered book, body maps if needed and behaviour logs. This should also be recorded on CPOMS.
- Parents will be informed of the incident
